

There will be an oversized word bank for this section

I. Sentence completion. Write the correct word in the blank. The answer should re-create the original language of the text.

1. "Down from the vaulting heavens swept Athena."
2. "You are nothing to me- you and your overweening anger!"
3. "Never again, old man, let me catch sight of you by the hollow ships!/Not loitering now, not slinking back tomorrow."
4. "The god's enraged because Agamemnon spurned his priest, /He refused to free his daughter, he refused the ransom."
5. "You never deigned, freely and frankly,/to share your plots with me —never, not a word!"

II. Synonyms. Give a synonym for each word below. Be mindful of part of speech.

1. citadel fortress
2. bruit rumor
3. sacrosanct holy
4. bulwark wall
5. decree command

One answer each only please.

III. Antonyms. Give an antonym for each word below. Be mindful of part of speech.

1. gargantuan miniscule
2. clandestine public
3. harry comfort (v)
4. pittance abundance
5. sumptuous meager

IV. Word parts. First, give the definition of the underlined portion of each word. Then, give a derivative—another English word that uses the same word part in the same way. Finally, give a second derivative for extra credit.

	definition	derivative	+1
1. exult	out of, from	exit	excommunicate
2. ignominious	name	nominate	denominator
3. muster	show	monster	demonstrate
4. commandeer	with, together, thoroughly	communicate	Congress ↑ spelling change is okay

You don't have to write that "muster" comes from monstrare = to show but knowing this info helps with derivatives.
